

UTM in the Cloud

Recent security breaches have shed light on the vulnerability of IT systems and the impact the breaches can have. Malware infections, viruses, and loss of sensitive data in networks, servers and endpoint devices cost businesses millions of dollars every year. Traditional firewalls are unable to protect against these sophisticated and continuously evolving threats because they lack the ability to inspect content or prevent access to malicious sites.

We Run it...You Use it

Because its cloud-based, there is no appliance to manage, maintain or upgrade. Comwave UTM is always fully maintained, up to date and protecting your company.

Best in Class

Comwave UTM is built on Fortinet, the #1 market share leader in UTM with over 100,000 deployments per quarter.

Top Rated Security

Fortinet has been validated by NSS labs, AV Comparative, Virus Bulletin and more. The Fortinet global operations centers continually update threats which are fed into the Comwave core for real-time protection without your intervention.

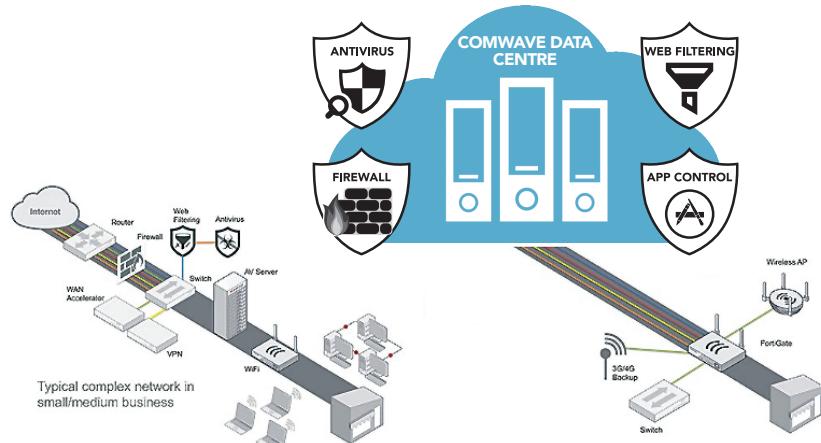

Easy to Manage

While Comwave will use best-practices for protecting your business, our Simple web-based interface allows you to manage and fine-tune your protection.

Comwave Universal Threat Management is built right into the core of our network ensuring each and every connection to your locations is protected against online threats. Our cloud based protection is a next generation firewall that also handles Intrusion Prevention (IPS), Web Filtering, Application Control, Malware & Viruses.

THE VERY BEST

Comwave selected Fortinet, the world's number one UTM vendor to help build our solution. While some companies continue to sell firewall appliances for each location, at Comwave we took a different approach by building the Fortinet UTM platform right into our network core. This resulted in a cloud-based UTM solution that allows UTM subscribers to fine tune filtering and protection through a simple to use web-interface.
